EDUCATION MAKES PEOPLE EASY TO LEAD, BUT DIFFICULT TO DRIVE;
EASY TO GOVERN, BUT IMPOSSIBLE TO ENSLAVE.

- HENRY BROUGHAM

In a letter to the paper this week Dr. Wilson made the following announcement.

"Last week the Principal's Council and the Erindale College Council both approved the following motion by Dean E. A. Robinson, seconded by Mr. P. Kochberg, that Erindale College be authorized to repeat its curriculum at other seasons than those fixed by the calendar and that students be given credit for a year's work if they complete a full course of lectures, tests and annual examinations in any twelve consecutive calendar months. This motion has been sent to S.A.G.E. and to the Council of the Faculty of Arts and Science of the University."

The details of the scheme are to be worked out by the Undergraduate Studies Committee of the College on, which both staff and students are represented. The object and expectation of the plan are that one full term of college courses would be given between April and August to perhaps as many as 200 students. They would then only have to do one term of work during the winter and arrangements would be made for half of them to do this before Christmas. Thus students joining this scheme would be free either from September to Christmas or from Christmas to April.

Local school boards are now employing assistant teachers and they have expressed interest and a willingness to hire Erindale students on the understanding that for each available job two students would be employed, one for half the year before Christmas and one for half the year after Christmas.

Needless to say additional members of the faculty would be employed to give the extra classes. Special merits of this scheme are-

- that it would provide jobs for Erindale students which would give them classroom experience in schools without committing them to become teachers and without delaying or interfering with their progress to their degrees in arts or science,

- it would increase the capacity of the college because if 200 students took courses during the summer only 100 would be present at any time during the winter,

- the scheme would provide a natural exchange of information through the students between universities and schools.

It would not be necessary for students who prefer the present scheme to enroll in the new one.

Now that the College Council has agreed to proceed details of the scheme will be worked out and announced. As this proposal originated within Erindale College, Erindale students will be given the first notice of when the scheme can be implemented, what its details are and the first opportunity to enrol if they wish to do so.

Editors' Note: This motion has already been passed by SAGE and optimistically will have gone through all channels by December.

ADVANCE RECRUITING FOR ONTARIO PAVILION AT EXPO 70

Keen on participating in the next Expo at Osaka, Japan? A recruiting team for the Ontario Pavilion at Expo 70 will be visiting Erindale College on December 5th, 1968.

The recruiters will hold a general meeting for all interested candidates on December 5th, at 11:00 AM in room 257.

This visit is part of the formal campaign to choose the 20 -25 hosts and hostesses needed to staff the Ontario Pavilion during the six-month world exposition in 1970. The recruiters are visiting 20 college and university campuses in the province during November and December.

At Erindale College general meeting the recruiters will explain the job conditions and qualifications required and set up interviews for the afternoon.

The search for Ontario's hosts and hostesses is being conducted on university and college campuses because young people with post-secondary or university-level education are felt to be the best suited for this type of demanding work. The minimum age will be 20 years old on January 1, 1970. The period of employment is from January 25th, to September 15th, 1970.

A speaking knowledge of Japanese is desirable but not absolutely essential. Personality, maturity, appearance and other languages are also vital qualifications.

MAKE BETTER USE OF THE LIBRARY

Mrs. Friend, reference librarian, has made the following suggestion: if a class would arrange to give her a list of essay topics and their date due, she and her staff would be willing to assist in finding students relevant material.

Librarians will give individual assistance to students doing any topic and will mount displays of books for those topics chosen by a large number of students in a class.

The benefits of this plan are obvious as every student can hardly be aware of all the references that are potentially helpful.

So please make the library more useful to your own work and increase the effectiveness of this library as an educational aid. Get a representative and give your essay topics to any of the librarians.

THIS IS: Linda Lynch

What girl was seen fighting two male college students? No, you're wrong. It wasn't Randy Jenkins. It was Linda Lynch, last year's "Woman Athlete of the Year". Linda was engaged in fisticuffs with two first year males in the recent bed-race. It is this fight and determination that has stood Linda apart from most girls in the college for the last two years. When Linda is not playing volleyball, women's hockey or voicing her opinion she manages to major in Botany in preparation for a career in oceanography.

Last year Linda served as treasurer on E.C.A.R.A. and this year is Vice-President of same. She organized the Erindale Ski Club and has plans underway already for a fun-tastic ski excursion during the Christmas holidays.

When Linda is not engaged in athletics or studying she has her spare time filled turning down productive relationships. In closing, they say behind each successful female there is a patient, understanding male. In Linda's case, "Mad-Dog" tries to keep her on the straight and narrow.

THE TRENT WEEKEND

As they say in California: "Boy you should have been here yesterday, you really missed it man". Yesterday was Saturday and the scene, Trent University. The trip started at eleven, Saturday morning with everybody prodding 'Fuzzy' Gibbins on his previous night's endeavours.

By the time the matter was established the basketball team led by the three 'S's -- Shaw, Sibbald and Sprogis -- defeated Trent U. 78 - 70. Shaw gained 25 points, Sibbald 18, and Sprogis 11. In the meantime, the hockey team proved that it was possible to blow a game in four minutes. Erindale was leading 3-2 with four minutes left then Trent U. scored 3 unanswered goals. The final score was 5-3 for Trent. Erindale lost the services of Marty McCormick a top defenceman, when he stopped a shot with his now fractured index finger. Larry 'Nevy' Mastromatteo seemed to gain his old confidence and scored two goals both assisted by Terry Ryan who scored the other goal.

The trip home was wild and the uke playing of Butch McClintock reinforced the vocal attempts of Bashful Terry Ryan and the others. Later a very conservative party was held at Pete Armstrong's and after that yours truly was unable to make further notes on the proceedings. Special thanks go to Mr. Bartlett for arranging the trip and the fans who showed up to support their college. Of course, what would the trip have been without the efforts of Pete Armstrong as the local government 'dairy'.

MEN'S HOCKEY

Tuesday night, Erindale extended it's winning streak to two long games by defeating University College 3-1. Mastromatteo, Ryan and Kennedy tallied for Erindale in an explosive game witnessed by a large crowd of enthusiastic Erindalians. Our Erindale representative of the 'Pro Divers Club' (ha ha), Ronan Grogan played an outstanding game for us in the net. In fact, half the crowd Tuesday night was composed of his relatives.

MEN'S SOCCER

In a play-off game Erindale's soccer team lost 2-0 to Phys Ed. in a game most thought they should have won. This team has played stand-out soccer this year and Erindale's athletic community is proud of their record.

MEN'S LACROSSE

The Erindale 'Injuns' had been scalping the Vic boys all game. After Erindale constantly smashed them into the sides of the building, the Vic team dropped like strawberry jam down the walls and lay on the floor writhing. But with three minutes thirty-five seconds on the clock the score was Victoria College 6, Erindale 2. As the Erindale 'GOOSE GOOSE' cheer began Brother Lehmann rifled a bullet shot from centre. The score Vic 6, Erindale 3. With two minutes twenty seconds left McKeown took a face-off, broke towards the net, shot and scored. Score Vic 6, Erindale 4. With one minute thirty seconds remaining Pelech zoomed a sizzler from the right side into the net. Score Vic 6, Erindale 5. In the last 25 seconds Vic seized the ball from the face-off and ran out the clock. Congratulations Erindale for fine game and a good season record of five wins and one loss.

JUDO CLUB

On November 30th the club intends to travel to Hamilton to observe a 'shiai' tournament in memory of a famous black belt. The more exciting features of the tournament will begin approximately 4:00 p.m. and last the duration of the meet. Car pools will be arranged as interest is shown. Members encouraged to attend. Any interested students or friends are welcome. If interested, please contact John Hazlewood or Eric Bow by Friday afternoon.

The Double-Bedder

"All those in first year raise his hand." The "Frosh" puppies complied and that hirsute sophomore "Gibbie" rewarded their "mugly ugs" with H<sub>2</sub>O squirts. Just one episode in that spirited rough-and-tumble bed race which started at 1:30 p.m. and ended in chaos.

In the crisp 40° Friday, November 22 weather, the 35 ODD spectators in cars from Erindale, saw the two teams bedpost - and - bedpost, as they reached 3205 Mississauga Rd. Then the "hearts-of-oak" men - Sprogie, Gibbie, Pelech, McKeown, Armstrong - took the helm for the II's and leaped the "virgin's end" 30 ft. ahead of the "Spirit of 69", while the I's bed lost a right wheel and were almost picked up for careless driving. Were it not for Gus who, on the Mississauga Rd. hill, crashed through the second year's bed springs, the bruiser sophs would have had a 20 pillow lead at least!

As the first's complete bed, and the second's springs and frame only, surged down Dundas St., eastbound, cars slowed and a police car watched. The II year red bloods gushed ahead, 100 yds. in front, while the sweaty-browed I year flimsies smelled bitter defeat. Then Starer's Huns struck! They poured out of a Volkeswagon, shoving and fisticuffing the surprised sophomores, who were forced to abandon their springs and frame. Particularly noticeable was Stammers who used Sprogie as an armchair, and the ditch talk of some frosh boys to some II year girls. With Stammers foray, the "firsties" bed advanced on the II's. Then Paul Kochberg, for strictly S.A.G.E. business reasons of sorts, plopped down on the firsties mattress. The II's further retaliated by seizing the I's mattress hying up to the top of the hill (finish line) first. However, the firsties protested the subtle theft of their mattress.

The winner? If they figure that out, they'll be able to figure out who won that famous tug-of-war between "Hill's Squishers" and "Goldfarb's Kibbitzers", the day the rope snapped.

HIGH SCHOOL?

Erindale is a high school. Only one thing has changed since we passed our Grade 13 exams; the location of the system:

It is the same rush home after classes; even the bus leaves at 3:15 p.m.

It is the same fear of tests and exams. Regurgitation is still a sickness of the system.

It is the same teacher that talks - we absorb routine. They are still up there in the role of social babysitters giving the "knowledge" to the masses.

It is the same feeling that learning is dull, boring, and repulsive. Leave it behind in the class.

It is the same little "friendship groups" in the cafeteria. Beyond your group is a sea of "Gids" or "Bastards".

It is the same childish irresponsibility that leaves garbage on cafeteria tables. Only there isn't any chalk to throw around here.

It is the same lack of involvement and responsibility when it comes to policy-making decisions. You still hear, "What can I do?..." and I couldn't give a damn anyway!.....So why try to change anything?"

It is the same as high school.

There is a solution, everyone can find it somewhere

P.S. This is the problem Mary Lynn.

- Jim Dorman.

STUDENT POWER

Remember that poster on the bulletin board outside the cafeteria that said:

"Join the Apathy Club. All Welcome. Those who wish to join, please don't come to room 212 and don't sign your name!"?

Although this was written with humorous intentions, it struck a raw nerve. For Erindale's students are, said Jean-Jacques MacLean, apathetic and indifferent. To get the students involved and combat this apathy, MacLean urged at the November 27th "student power" meeting, the radical abolition of present councils and the introduction of a council composed of half faculty, half students. This council would control everything concerning the university. Paul Kochberg informed all present that MacLean's scheme is prevented now by the university laws. However, Kochberg said, that to encourage student participation, Erindale will probably have course unions within a few years. Students would compose the unions and legally decide the course curriculum.

The Pilgrimage

They say that Christ had only twelve disciples, and so it seems Erindale College. Last week-end to support our teams playing at Trent ECARA chartered a full-size bus. This "Ship of the Highway" was complete with intercom, piped-in music, reclining aircraft type seats, and a washroom. The spectators were whisked down to Peterborough in two hours flat. The trip was obviously smoothed out by a few drinks and a good time was had by all.

But isn't it a shame that there were only nine students and a friend who cared, on that bus. And it only cost $1.50!

Never has so much been enjoyed by so few!

- One of the Twelve.

LIFE AT THE CO-OP

Are you short of scratch? Do you have a thirty mile bus trip every day? Just feel lonely? If the answer is yes, you will probably be interested in the Erindale Co-op.

The co-op is the first residence of any kind at Erindale College and therefore, we hope, will set the pattern for the future. It is sort of a small Rochdale with everyone doing their part to run the place in a efficient manner. For example, this week yours truly is the dishwasher, next week or the week after, I'll be the cook (God forbid)

Most of the credit for making this scheme a reality must go to the professors, Allen Powell and Christopher Plowright. They have sacrificed a lot of time, money and energy in obtaining the co-op for us here, and as a special reward will receive a Christmas card from each of the inhabitants.

Although it is a little early to prognosticate (wow), I'm sure the whole deal will be a great success. It has to be or I go back to living at the Salvation Army.

But don't take my word for it (I knew you wouldn't anyway) but one way or another you will be exposed to the co-op sometime this year and you can judge for yourself.

For those of you who live thirty miles away, short of scratch etc., this is something to think about, (Fred Scambati)

POETRY CORNER

All ye who worship Beauty in her cause,
As doth the harlot priest, that pimp of God
With ancient rule and arbitrary rod;
Who give her sanction in pragmatic laws,
She never heeds ye; yeilding only pause
to those who quicken at her slightest nod,
Ere last, in death, enrich the ground she trod,
Who know her beauty, as they loved, with flaws.

She is not fleckless, nor her speech the trope
Of much exotic rhythm; often dumb
Her voice in temples where her fame is wrought:
For Beauty's working is not Beauty's scope
Nor yet her coming (she is ever come)
Nor Beauty keeping - she is never caught.

GOD

They say the good
Will go to heaven
And be with God
But from what good
I have seen,
I'll go to Hell
'Cause what a
Hell of a place
Heaven will be.
